

The Queen vs slug army

The Queen Vs The Slug Army

Chapter 1

There was a queen called Josephine and one day she decided to build a palace called Ruby palace. She was as old as the sea, but no one knew exactly how old she really was.

She wears it all the time, but she only took it off in her bed, the crown, it was made of solid gold, diamonds, emeralds, rubies and jade stone.

This was a very heavy crown and it was very powerful.

The following morning, Queen Josephine decided to throw a party. She ordered a table and it was as big as a blue whale!

Later that morning, 20 trailers arrived with music, torches, chairs, small tables, hog roasters and wood. The meats sizzled away and the smell was delicious.

What they did not know was, there was an animal no bigger than an ant slithering across the gravel, making his way to ruby palace. Moments later, the slug turned into a dragon, flew into the clouds created a lightning storm. He flew down gently and fiercely broke down the door with his arms, he opened his mouth wide and breathed flashes of lightning at the people. This killed most of them and only 100 people survived including the queen.

Battered and bruised, the queen angrily pulled out her diamond sword and wounded the dragon with a vicious blow to the neck. The dragon screamed in pain and lightning shot out of its mouth lighting up the sky. The queen threw her diamond sword at the dragon sending it deep into his chest piercing its heart. This blow instantly killed the dragon. Soon after, the queen built a ship and called it 'the unicorn' it was made of steel and wood and it was as big as the titanic.

At 1' Oclock, the ship departed from the dock to Ireland. In haste, the slug army turned into dragons and flew over the water. As the dragons apprehended the ship, the queen drew a gun and shot at the dragons bringing one of the smaller dragons down. Suddenly, more dragons appeared and started breathing fire and lightning at the ship. The ship sank then everyone died from the fire. Next, the other dragons, in the middle of the sea, saved the dragon that had been downed. The dragons dragged the injured dragon from the sea by grabbing him by his feet. The ship had sunk and wiped everybody out and it killed the queen. The whole kingdom was lost. With no one left to rule the land, it was the slug dragon's domain.

The End